Thunderous 'Aloha' Awaits Walter Schirra on Honolulu Stopover

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE IN PACIFIC (AP)—America's champion astronaut, Walter M. Schirra Jr., steamed slowly today toward his first thunderous welcome—a massed greeting in Hawaii.

He will be accompanied by five of the six other American astronauts. Paul Haney, National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman, said the crowd would have to be jammed into a space 150 by 200 yards at Hickam. At Haney's estimate of one person per square foot, that would limit the crowd to 180,000 of Oahu's half million residents.

Gov. William F. Quinn, a Republican seeking renomination in today's state primary, and Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander in chief, Pacific, head the official welcoming party. Democratic Sen. Oren E. Long, who is not seeking renomination, and Rep. Daniel K. Inouye, a Democrat aspiring to Long's seat, are flying out from Washington and may make a noon luncheon.

After flying from the carrier Kearsarge, Schirra is scheduled to land at Hickam at 10 a. m. and appear briefly with his fellow astronauts. Then he will be taken to luncheon with Quinn, Blaisdell, Felt and other civil and military officials—a luncheon from which newsmen and photographers will be barred.

NASA spokesmen didn't speculate what the Navy commander might tell the luncheon guests about his six-orbit flight of last Wednesday.

Schirra is scheduled to hold his first news conference Sunday in Houston, Texas.

Public and political clamor that Hawaii be given a chance to hail Schirra helped extend his visit from an originally scheduled 10 minutes to three hours. But the public will see him perhaps less than half an hour before he is whisked off to the luncheon.

The fact that Schirra was pronounced in such excellent condition and that all of his physical and other tests were completed nearly a day early also helped persuade NASA officials to let him land about six hours earlier than first planned.

Man Loses Life in City Crash Gilbert Pigeon 4th Victim in 8 Days

The fourth person to die as the result of an automobile accident in the past eight days succumbed this morning at Benedictine Hospital approximately three and one-half hours after he had been involved in an accident on Wilbur Avenue according to reports at police headquarters. Another man involved in the accident is reported to be in critical condition at the same hospital.

Gilbert Pigeon, 28, of 16 Hewitt Place was pronounced dead at 12:45 a. m. today at the hospital after being taken there when he was injured at 9:18 p. m. Friday as the vehicle he was operating struck a utility pole head on on Wilbur Avenue 100 feet south of Wall Street, according to reports.

Two pedestrians, William Seitz, 64, of 367 Hasbrouck Avenue and Michael L. Devine, 69, of 68 McEntee Street died as the result of accidents on a city street on consecutive nights (Thursday and Friday) last week. A cab driver, George W. Kahrs, 23, of 421 Wilbur Avenue, died as the result of an accident Sunday night on Manor Avenue.

Pigeon was reportedly operating a truck owned by J & G Construction Company, 20 Boulder Avenue and going south on Wilbur Avenue when the fatal mishap occurred.

A passenger in the truck, Robert Lindroth, 33, of Route 2, Box 161 is reported in critical condition at Benedictine Hospital. Reports say that he suffered injuries about the head, face and mouth.

Pigeon, according to police reports, suffered head injuries and possible internal injuries. Ulster County Coroner Francis J. McCord said that the cause of death is pending a post mortem examination.

The accident was investigated by Patrolmen Thomas Kearney and Joseph Kivlan.

Spellman Uninjured By Blast

NEW YORK (AP)—A bomb-like device exploded early today at the St. Patrick's Cathedral residence of Francis Cardinal Spellman. No one, including the cardinal who was asleep on the second floor, was injured when the blast blew out four basement windows.

"It got me up," Cardinal Spellman said of the explosion as he viewed the shattered windows of the unoccupied maid's quarters.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of New York came outside fully dressed in his black clerical suit and white collar and talked with newsmen while a light rain fell. Asked if he thought the explosion was a kid's prank, the 73-year-old prelate replied seriously, "What do you mean, kids?"

He obviously was reminded of an explosion that chipped a statue and damaged an organ at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome last July 14. That was followed on Sept. 22 by the discovery of two incendiary bombs in St. Peter's that forced its closing until the Second Vatican Council opens next Thursday.

Cardinal Spellman and his aide, Msgr. Timothy Flynn, information director of the New York archdiocese, said they knew of no recent threats against either the cardinal or St. Patrick's Cathedral itself.

Flynn said he had no recollection of any bombings at the cathedral before.

Arbitrary, Says Saugerties Resolution Flays College Site Vote

The selection of the Stone Ridge site for Ulster County Community College was described as "arbitrary, capricious and contrary to the evidence presented to the college board of trustees," according to a resolution passed unanimously at this week's Saugerties Town Board meeting.

The resolution drafted by Town Justice of the Peace William D. Brinner stated that the Winston Farm site at Saugerties is without equal in the county for a community college.

The resolution further states that the Town Board will communicate with the State University Board of Trustees suggesting that an independent investigation should be made of the Saugerties site approved by 4 of 5 local college trustees, and that the Stone Ridge designation should be set aside and stricken from the list of those sites under consideration "as utterly inadequate and as an insufferable tax burden on the taxpayers of the county."

The board set aside $2,000 for employees of the Town who would like to join the hospitalization plan of the New York State Health Insurance Program. The town pays half the premium under the plan. A meeting of all town employees will be held in the near future and a vote will be taken on the matter.

Accepts Deed for Streets
A dedicatory deed for various streets in Dutch Settlement, Barclay Heights was accepted by the board after an investigation as to the condition and adherence to town highway department specifications. The streets accepted were a portion of John Street, portion of Blue Hills Drive, all of Hemlock Court and Blue Hills Court.

On the matter of extending Quarryville Light District to include several additional properties, the board decided that the proposal required further study due to the lack of sufficient assessed valuation to make the extension economically favorable to all the taxpayers of the district.

To Sign Petition At Open House Sunday at Winston
Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce, through its education committee chairman, Vincent Amrod, has issued a public invitation for all residents of Ulster, Greene and Columbia Counties and their supervisors, to attend a rally at the Winston Estate Sunday between 3 and 4 p. m.

A tour of the mansion which was offered with 80 acres of property free for the Ulster Community College, will be conducted by members of the chamber.

Cool, Brief Meeting
Then De Gaulle called in Senate President Gaston Monnerville and Assembly President Jacques Chaban-Delmas. De Gaulle is required to consult with them as well as the premier before ordering dissolution of the Assembly.

Monnerville, one of the leading opponents of De Gaulle's plans to amend the constitution through a referendum, remained in the palace only a matter of minutes, indicating that the meeting was as cool as it was brief.

Pompidou seemed rested and relaxed following his defeat, bringing about the first cabinet crisis in more than four years.

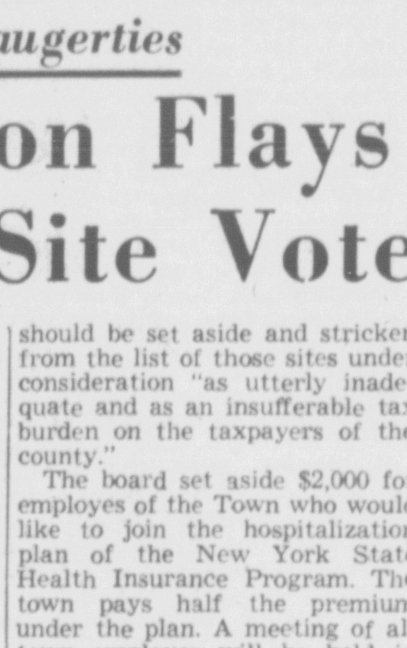

Informants close to De Gaulle said that while he will accept Pompidou's resignation he will ask him to remain on with full policy making powers for the present. Past tradition has been that, an ousted premier becomes

Facts on Fires Being Stressed By County Vols
Fire Prevention Week will be observed in Ulster County during the week of Oct. 7-13.

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association as usual is conducting a county-wide program of "facts about fires" in an effort to make the public conscious of the fact that in 1961 fire took the lives of 11,700 people in the United States, according to National Fire Protective Association preliminary estimates. More than 6,000 of the deaths occurred in home fires.

In a campaign to educate children of the county on the seriousness of fires, and to promote fire prevention, schools of the county will be visited and literature distributed.

One of the things to be featured during Fire Prevention Week, James Hicks chairman of the committee named to distribute the literature to schools reports, is "Family Fire Drills."

De Gaulle Dissolves Assembly

Premier Resigns, Asked to Stay On
PARIS (AP) — President De Gaulle decided today to dissolve the French National Assembly and call new elections.

A communique from Elysee Palace—the French White House—said De Gaulle had "taken note" of the resignation of Premier Georges Pompidou, submitted this morning. Pompidou was asked to stay at his post until the new assembly is elected and installed.

Pompidou had been forced to resign by an Assembly vote of censure early Friday.

No date was announced for the elections but speculation centered although the president might decide to delay the balloting until late November.

The French electorate already has been called to the polls Oct. 28 to vote on De Gaulle's referendum proposal for popular election of future French presidents.

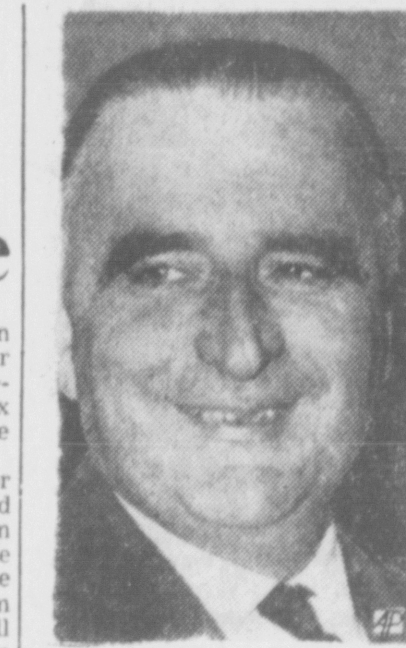

Pompidou spent 40 minutes with the president.

Register Tonight
Registration of voters for the general election November 6 will be held in the City of Kingston and in the county districts until 10 o'clock tonight.

Don't put off this civic duty until the two final registration days next week as something may happen to prevent you from registering at that time.

You must be registered or you will lose your vote in this important election.

The wise thing to do is to register at your polling place by 10 o'clock tonight.

Ballot Bid By Farmer's Party Loses
There will be no Farmers' Party on the election ballot this fall. That is the outcome of a trial before Supreme Court Justice Lawrence D. Cooke, following a lengthy hearing before the Supreme Court Friday.

After examination of a large number of names attached to the petition, many were excluded as not being proper signatures. With the invalidation of these signatures it became evident that there would not remain the required 1,500 legal signatures.

Petition Withdrawn
A recess of the court was taken about 6 p. m. Friday and when the court reconvened about 7 p. m. it appeared the petition would not stand. Finally shortly before 8 p. m. when it became evident there would be far less than the 1,500 necessary signatures remaining, the petition was withdrawn on consent of the persons named in the petition and counsel.

Under a show cause order signed last Tuesday by Justice Cooke, the matter was returnable before Justice Kenneth MacAffer at special term Friday. At that time Justice MacAffer ruled that under decisions the matter should be given an immediate trial and referred the matter to Justice Cooke, who is holding the October trial term in Ulster County.

Objection to the acceptance of a nominating petition of the Independent Farmers' Party ticket, which endorsed Supervisor George Majestic of Gardiner, Democratic candidate for member of assembly, and Frank Tantiello, for Town of Gardiner Councilman, was filed by Mrs. Rose LeFever, vice-chairman, Robert A. Snyder, secretary, Ulster County Republican Central Committee and Howard C. St. John, Republican City chairman.

Acceptance of the nominating petition was denied.

Rusk Will Sound Out Gromyko on Moves in Berlin
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to try to learn how far the Soviet Union aims to go on Berlin when he meets today with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

The two big power diplomats will have lunch together at the Soviet Mission in their second exchange in 11 days.

Informants said Rusk might also take up the threat posed by the Soviet military buildup in Cuba. Rusk has avoided bringing in Cuba because he did not consider the problem negotiable.

Rusk had been expected to bring up the Berlin issue at his last meeting with Gromyko on Sept. 25. But U.S. sources said time ran out after a long exchange on getting the Communist Vietnamese forces out of Laos and a nuclear test ban.

Some Western diplomats believe the Berlin crisis has eased and that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is not eager to rush into a separate peace treaty with East Germany, although he has threatened anew to do so.

Leaders Uncertain Of Date House to Resume, Senate on Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanuts, pensions and "pork" have killed all hopes for final adjournment of Congress today and hung a question mark on when it will quit.

Only half of the national legislative body—the House—called a Saturday session. The Senate closed shop until Monday.

Leaders tossed in the sponge Friday in their fight to finish the session this week. They set no new target date.

"Anywhere from next Tuesday to next Saturday or beyond," Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana wryly told his colleagues.

To Act on Aid Fund
House speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., refused to risk a guess on adjournment as he ordered an unusual Saturday session primarily to consider a compromise $6,278,962,000 appropriation bill containing $3,928,900,000 for the foreign aid program.

This is a "must" administration bill, and leaders were taking no chances on jeopardizing it for lack of a House majority next week.

Many House members already have left to campaign for re-election in next month's congressional voting. Many of them don't plan to return, barring an emergency. Without a majority of its members on hand, the House would not be able to transact any major business next week.

Approves Postal Hike
The House took final action Friday on one major measure it sent to the President: a bill raising postal rates—including a penny increase for letters and postcards—and raising the pay of 1.6 million postal and classified government employees by an average 10 to 11 per cent.

The House also sent to the Senate a resolution saying Congress favors the use of any means necessary to uphold Allied rights in Berlin.

A technical objection blocked House action Friday on the annual water projects bill, commonly known as the "pork barrel" measure because it authorizes hundreds of federal construction projects throughout the nation. Sponsors dispute the description, arguing the projects will produce benefits greater than their cost.

Chairman in No Hurry
As passed by the House, the measure carried $2.25 billion for water projects, but the sum was raised to $4 billion by the Senate. Without clearance from the Senate, the House cannot act on it.

Asks Non-Residents Pay More for Summer School
An increase in tuition for non-resident students attending summer school classes in 1963, of which 575 were completed successfully, the principal reported. Increases in enrollment were listed as 885 in 1960, 959 in 1961 and this year 1,325 names were in the registers. Anderson stated that the advanced half units of credit have grown by 180 per cent since 1960.

Anderson said that an increase in non-resident tuition would continue to provide a safe margin and Consolidated District taxpayers would not have to assume any of the burdens that belong to non-resident taxpayers. He said the advanced courses offered at the summer school have been extremely successful and expressed hope the school officials would continue and expand the program.

The summer school principal also recommended a two step salary schedule for the summer session.

Principal Boyd reported 183 pupils were enrolled in the elementary summer school, and noted the attendance held up very well during the entire period.

Detectives from the police bomb squad arrived at the cathedral in mid-Manhattan and one commented, after viewing the bombed area, "It was no accident."

The detective said it was uncertain whether the device was hurled through one of the barred basement windows or was planted for delayed explosion in a below-street-level alleyway adjacent to the residence.

Police speculated that the explosion, heard for blocks around, was caused by one or more fire-cracker-type devices such as a "cherry bomb."

Later, however, bomb squad experts found in the alleyway several grayish-white stubs which they said had the characteristics of dynamite casings. The residual matter was taken to a police laboratory.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Nearly 100 Jewish chaplains in today's armed forces mark a century of dedicated service to God and man this year. In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed into law an act which for the first time included rabbis among the chaplains for America's fighting men.

The first to enlist was Rabbi Ferdinand L. Sarnet of Rochester, N. Y., who served with the Federal Army's 54th Volunteer Regiment. At the battle of Gettysburg, Chaplain Sarnet was badly wounded, his horse shot from beneath him.

Saluting the proud tradition which Chaplain Sarnet began, President Kennedy said the 100 years of the Jewish chaplaincy "have been marked by service, devotion and valor."

Talmud Torah Registers 130 Pupils at School

A total of 130 students are registered for the Talmud Torah school year 1962-63. Classes are held at the Jewish Community Center, 96 Maiden Lane, at Fair Street.

Due to the High Holy Days there will be no Sunday school classes until Oct. 28 at 10:15 a. m. In addition to the two primary grades, a third Sunday school class will be instituted. The curriculum of the new class has been designed to provide a Jewish cultural and historical background to children who can not attend the regular Monday and Wednesday sessions on first grade Hebrew school. First graders of Hebrew School may also attend the Sunday school class, which by itself will not be credited toward Bar Mitzvah or Bas Torah requirements.

High school Hebrew regents class will be resumed in the near future. All post-Bar Mitzvah students who have had five years of Talmud Torah study will be eligible for this class. There will be no tuition fee for this class which will prepare students for the two year high school regents examination.

The growth of the enrollment and the variety of classes has necessitated the consideration of employing a part-time principal and executive director of the Talmud Torah board.

Registration, class schedules and tuition information may be obtained from Mrs. Rose Nusbaum, financial secretary, 92 Washington Avenue.

Reformed Church Seminary Makes Appeal for Funds

The United Synod Advance Classis mobilization meeting for the Classis of Ulster will be held Monday 8 p. m. at the Fair Street Reformed Church. The purpose of the meeting is to present to the members of the 27 Reformed Churches in the Ulster County area, the needs of the denomination New Brunswick Theological Seminary New Brunswick, N. J.

The oldest Protestant Seminary in America, it was founded 1784 in New York City and moved to the city of New Brunswick in the early part of the 19th century. With the subsequent growth of the Reformed Church and the continued increasing need for ministers, the seminary has turned to the churches of the denomination for a total of $1,200,000. Three eastern synods have accepted the challenge of their seminary and are in the process of raising these funds over a three-year period of time. The Particular Synod of New York has pledged $360,000 to the cause.

At the meeting Monday night local Reformed Church constituents will hear Dr. Justin Vander Kolk, president of the seminary, present, The Case for United Synod Advance. Other speakers at the Mobilization meeting will be the Rev. Harold F. Schadevall, president of the Classis of Ulster, Mrs. Helen Mollenhauer, president of the Women's Classical Union, and William E. Rylance, lay-chairman of the campaign in the area and member of the denomination's board of education.

The Rev. Edwin C. Coon, minister of the local church, and chairman of the synod advance program in the Classis of Ulster, will preside at the meeting. The closing address, "Let Us Be About Our Father's Business" will be presented by The Rev. Henry Reinwald, pastor of the Reformed Church in Mt. Marion. Nelson Rounsley, campaign council for the seminary, will describe to those present the plan of action.

During the 177 years of its existence the seminary has graduated over 2000 ministers and missionaries. This is only the second time in its history the seminary has come to the churches for capital funds.

Alliance Church Sets Rally Day

In announcing the annual Rally Day in the Sunday school next Sunday at the Christian and Missionary Alliance, the pastor, the Rev. Willard D. Crunkilton pointed out that Christian Education is more important than it has ever been.

The textbook is the Bible in all classes at the Alliance, and teachers are carefully screened before being named or renamed to teach. Parents who wish to make inquiries about the Sunday school may call the pastor, or the Sunday school superintendent, Deforest Shaver, of High Falls. There are classes for all ages, including two adult classes.

Sunday school meets every Sunday of the year 9:45 a. m. and dismissed at 10:50 a. m. If transportation is required for a family they may call the minister.

The worship service at 11 a. m. will have for the guest speaker Dr. Myrdin Lewis, a native of Wales, who will conclude a two-week conference Sunday. Seeing Him will be the morning topic, and at 7 p. m. The Voice of Revelation. Unusual interest has been created this week as prophetic themes have been heard.

Dr. Lewis is specially qualified to teach Bible prophecy, having given it much study while a pastor in a church of 1,000 parishioners in Birmingham, England. In a couple of weeks he is to return to that city for a few months rest. He will then come back to the States to continue his Bible teaching ministry further.

DR. WALTER L. SCRANTON

Methodist Cleric To Be Speaker at St. James Church

Dr. Walter L. Scranton, superintendent of the New York District, New York Conference, will conduct the World Wide Communion Service at St. James Methodist Church at 11 a. m. Sunday. The Communion meditation is entitled The Bread of Fellowship.

Dr. Scranton was born in Iowa, Dec. 13, 1908, and attended secondary schools in that state. He was graduated with a BA degree from Iowa Wesleyan College in 1930 and received his BD from Drew Theological Seminary in 1933. He was granted an honorary Doctor of Divinity from Iowa Wesleyan in 1943.

Dr. Scranton has served churches in Rhinebeck, Newburgh and White Plains. He was a representative of the New York Conference at the Jurisdictional Conference three times and for several years served as chairman of the Board of Missions of the New York Conference and also as chairman of the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications. In 1948 he witnessed the formation of the World Council of Churches.

Dr. Scranton attended the World Conference of Methodism in Oxford, 1951 and again in 1956 as a delegate from the New York Annual Conference and was an exchange minister assigned for a summer in England in 1951. Previous to his appointment as district superintendent this year, he served the Memorial Methodist Church for 19 years. At present Dr. Scranton is a member of the Board of Trustees of the New York Annual Conference.

Unitarians Get Stone House as Meeting Place

The Ulster County Unitarian Fellowship met for the first time last Sunday in the newly-acquired Pickett House, Town of Ulster, one of the oldest stone houses in the area and a landmark of Ulster County.

Located on Lohmeyer Lane off of Neighborhood Road, the 200-year old home now is amidst the maze of newly constructed roads and highways in that area. At one time it was the center of activity of a large and productive farm. Members of the Fellowship have taken on the task of remodeling the home.

The Fellowship became landlord of the house when it was bequeathed to them by the late Anita Truman Pickett. Longtime residents of Ulster County, both Mrs. Pickett and her husband were Unitarian ministers. She also authored books and poems on religious subjects.

Fellowship president, Dr. Jacob Moss announced at the meeting that numerous guest speakers have been lined up for future meetings this year.

The regular Sunday meeting begins at 10:30 a. m. at the Pickett House. Sunday school classes for all ages will be in session at the same hour.

Candidates Clash In Pa. Debate

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Democratic Sen. Joseph S. Clark and the Republican challenger for his Senate seat, U.S. Rep. James E. Van Zandt, clashed sharply in an unexpected and heated television debate.

Their impromptu debate blazed up Friday night when Van Zandt made a surprise appearance at a Pittsburgh television station where Clark was scheduled to speak on a Democrat-sponsored campaign broadcast, and said he was ready to accept Clark's long-standing challenge to a debate.

Van Zandt proceeded to hurl a volley of charges at Clark, often interrupting Clark's answers to renew the attack.

During their heated exchange, charges and counter-charges tangled confusedly, with both candidates speaking simultaneously.

As the 15-minute program neared its end, Clark said, "If you want all the time you can have, I'll get back at you later."

Then, turning to the TV audience, Clark said, "Ladies and gentlemen, I ask you — is this fair?"

In a telephone interview after the broadcast, Clark said "I think we have smoked the fox out of his hole. . . we will be proposing to him to join in three debates between now and the end of the campaign, financed jointly by the Democratic and Republican parties."

Any future debates, he added, will be held "under Marquis of Queensbury rules, which I was unable to arrange this time." The presence of a moderator or panel of newsmen in future duels, he said, would make possible a "civilized" discussion of the issues.

Religious Art Exhibit Aims for 'More Vitality'

DETROIT (AP) — Catholic, Protestant and Jewish artists from throughout the country will exhibit a $250,000 worth of paintings and sculpture next week in a fast growing movement aimed at giving more vitality to religious art.

The occasion is the third biennial National Religious Art Exhibition which will be held Oct. 11-25 in suburban Birmingham, the place of its birth four years ago in the gymnasium of a church.

Mounting interest forced the promoters to move the show to a big tent the following year. This year's exhibition will be in an auditorium able to accommodate 15,000 persons a day.

Exhibits Are Extensive

Exhibits likewise have grown. The show opening next week will display about 300 selections by 220 artists from 22 states plus a number of foreign countries, and will include mosaics, metal works, ceramics, enamels, textiles and graphic arts as well as paintings and sculpture.

The sponsor of the show still is the Holy Name (Catholic) parish of Birmingham but its expenses are underwritten by art patrons of many faiths. Prize winners will share $3,600 in cash awards.

Besides encouraging artists to interpret the life of Christ, the Rev. William B. Davidson of Holy Name church said the idea behind the exhibition which he got going originally was "to stimulate public interest in and appreciation of religious art, and to encourage private ownership of religious art objects."

Approximately 100 of 400 entries submitted for showing this year were turned down by a selection board. Those chosen range from a 4x6 foot painting of a Roman soldier nailing Christ to the cross to a humorous bronze showing an angel looking down from on high to determine if a harp-playing human below is worthy of entering heaven.

Vatican Council To Be Topic at Fair St. Church

At the regular monthly fellowship supper of the congregation of the Fair Street Reformed Church 6:15 p. m. Wednesday, the Rev. Gavin O'Reilly, professor of theology at the Capuchin Seminary, Garrison, and instructor at Ladycliff College, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be The Second Vatican Council in Rome. On the eve of this important gathering when Roman Catholics will meet to consider modernization and self-reform, people from all Christendom are interested in learning what they might expect in its outcome.

Father Gavin will address the congregation and their friends immediately following the supper. A separate program has been planned for the younger children.

Special Service Set Sunday at Rondout Church

A special service in recognition of the life and service of Miss Grace Terwilliger will be held at the Rondout Presbyterian Church, 11 a. m. Sunday. Miss Terwilliger, a lifelong member of the church died Aug. 29 at the Home for the Aged. She was one of the hardest workers in the church, having held almost every office possible for a woman to hold.

In recognition of her service a silver receiving basin, the gift of a friend, will be dedicated. The morning service will also be in observance of World Wide Communion Sunday.

The Rev. Clarence W. Smith, acting minister will officiate. Charles J. Brand will be organist and the Rondout Quartet and choir will sing.

Dutchess Lawyers Direct Citizens For Rocky, Levits

State headquarters of Citizens for Rockefeller-Javits, with offices at 60 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York City announced today the appointment of Anthony M. Quarataro and Jack M. Quarataro of Poughkeepsie as area coordinators for Midstate, comprising the seven counties of Greene, Columbia, Ulster, Sullivan, Orange and Dutchess.

The Citizens Committee for Rockefeller-Javits is an independent volunteer organization composed of democrats, Republicans and Independents whose mission, according to Jack M. Quarataro, is "to bring the Rockefeller-Javits record to the attention of all the voters of this state in order to re-elect with an impressive majority two of our most outstanding statesmen."

Jack M. and Anthony M. Quarataro, brothers, are engaged in the practice of law at 35 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, under the partnership name of Quarataro and Quarataro. Both are graduates of the Cornell Law School and are members of the local State and Federal Bars.

In commenting upon his appointment, Anthony M. Quarataro stated: "We have a unique opportunity this year to support for re-election two of our most able public servants, Governor Rockefeller and Senator Javits. They have demonstrated by their records their capacity for clean, competent government and their ability to provide responsible, sensitive leadership."

County chairmen of the organization will be announced in a few days.

Comforter Church Lists Speaker for Father, Son Fete

The annual father and son banquet, sponsored by the Comforter Brotherhood, will be held Monday, 6:30 p. m., in the Church of the Comforter Hall. The speaker for this year's event will be William Rooney, associated with the New York Telephone Company.

Mr. Rooney began his career with the New York Telephone Company in the plant department in 1948. It was interrupted during the Korean conflict during which time he served in the United States Army. Upon his discharge from the service Mr. Rooney resumed his telephone duties and also received a degree of Bachelor of Science from Siena College.

In 1957 he was transferred to the sales organization of the commercial department and then to his present position with the public relations department. Mr. Rooney's subject will be The Spaceman's New Frontier. Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Howard Nickerson, Brotherhood president.

The Comforter Brotherhood is also making plans to sponsor a Laymen's Sunday service Oct. 21, in the local church. A men's chorus is being formed and men from the congregation will conduct the entire service. Oct. 18, the Comforter Brotherhood will sponsor a Classical Brotherhood Workshop, beginning at 8 p. m., in the Church of the Comforter, at which time the Rev. Bert Brower, National Brotherhood president for the Reformed Church in America, will be the principal speaker.

BRIDGE

Champ Teams Play Perfectly

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In closing this review of interesting hands from the Italian-American World Championship Match of last winter, I want to stress that the play was just about as good as possible.

I have shown mistakes, but there is no such thing as perfect bridge and in a team match where everyone is trying to win there are bound to be many errors. No one can play winning bridge without errors because if he simply sits back and does nothing his opponents will make the scores.

Usually, there is little point in showing a hand where both sides get perfect results. Such boards are ties and don't affect the result of the match, but I will finish with one showing good play.

The bidding shown took place when America held the East-West cards. East used Blackwood to ask for aces, but decided not to try for seven. He felt that his partner's earlier three no-trump bid had been meant to discourage him.

A heart was opened and West saw danger. As usual he was only looking at his own hand and dummy. He ducked the heart. South won and shifted to a trump. North's nine forced East's jack and East played a second trump. When both opponents followed he went after diamonds which broke 4-3 making everything fine.

Italy did exactly the same at the other table and all the good bidding and play led to a halved board.

Economy in Real Trouble: Morgy

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert M. Morgenthau, Democratic candidate for governor, says the economy of New York State "is in real trouble and unless something is done about it now we'll be in worse trouble."

The Democratic candidate will appear in Kingston tonight at 7 o'clock to officially open the Ulster County Democratic headquarters, 596 Broadway. Morgenthau will be in the city following a party rally in Poughkeepsie.

Morgenthau, addressing a dinner Friday night of the board of directors of the New York Young Democrats, continued his attack on the fiscal record of his Republican opponent, Gov. Rockefeller. Morgenthau contended there are fewer manufacturing jobs in the state than when Rockefeller became governor and added:

Addresses NAACP

"For the first time the average industrial wage in New York is below the national average. The State unemployment Morgenthau said, is 10 per cent above the national average."

Morgenthau later went to the International Hotel at Idlewild Airport to speak at the state convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

He urged the setting up of a human resources committee to look after the education, welfare and employment of "the disadvantaged groups."

He also urged that the State Commission on Human Rights be authorized to investigate bias charges on its own authority and that the law forbidding discrimination in housing be extended to cover all types of housing outside New York City.

Morgenthau headquarters today released a telegram to a special committee conference held Friday in Albany attacking Rockefeller's record on Medicare as a "disgrace."

Attacks Performance

In the telegram, Morgenthau said Rockefeller "failed to use his influence with the Republican congressional delegation which he now backs for re-election—helped defeat the President's Medicare program. On the state level, he has steadfastly refused to abandon the archaic, inhuman means test."

The conference was described as a meeting of local Democratic candidates throughout the Upstate area to President Kennedy's Medicare program and on state issues.

Morgenthau leaves today for campaigning in the lower Hudson River Valley.

In another development at the Albany conference, Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon said he expected evidence would be offered to document Morgenthau's charge that Rockefeller planned a state tax increase.

McKeon's statement was seen as a move to reconcile a conflict between Morgenthau and State Comptroller Arthur Levitt over prospects of a tax boost.

McKeon told a news conference, "I feel there is evidence that will be presented in the course of the campaign."

Levitt declined Thursday to endorse predictions of a tax rise made by Morgenthau. But McKeon said Morgenthau had information he had not yet shared with Levitt.

Rockefeller has called the Morgenthau charge "utterly false and ridiculous."

Congress Quit

Rules Committee, the politically attractive bill can't get to a Senate-House conference committee and the differences. The Rules Committee's chairman, Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., appeared to be in no hurry to call a meeting for that purpose.

President Kennedy's departure from Washington for a weekend of political barnstorming was almost enough in itself to keep Congress around several more days. He left without acting on a bill to give a tax break to self-employed persons who set up approved pension plans.

The pension bill's backers fear a veto and are determined to keep Congress in session until the deadline for a presidential veto expires next Wednesday. They are confident they can override a veto.

Multi-billion Appropriation The peanut controversy swirls around the multi-billion appropriation for the Agriculture Department. The Senate added $25 million for research projects in several states, including a $16 million peanut marketing laboratory in Dawson, Ga. The House has refused to go along with the Senate and no break in the stalemate is in sight.

The agriculture measure is one of six money bills that must be passed before adjournment. The others carry funds for the foreign aid program, the District of Columbia, federal public works programs, the State, Justice and Commerce Departments, and a group of miscellaneous agencies.

All but the latter measure have passed both branches, but in different form. This final money bill has been cleared by the House only and can't be sent to the Senate floor before Monday. Purely technical objections could block a Senate vote before Thursday, the day now picked by congressional optimists for final adjournment.

Napanoch Driver Summoned After Auto Rams Pole

A 45-year-old Napanoch man was charged with leaving the scene of a property damage accident early today, after his car struck a utility pole off Route 209 at Main Street, Napanoch, according to Ellenville State Police.

Troopers Joseph Ellsworth and William Brown reported Cleon Kelly, of Napanoch, was driving north and started to make a left turn into Main Street, that community, when the vehicle left the west side of the highway and struck a utility pole.

Kelly was issued a summons by troopers on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. The summons is returnable Oct. 10 before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing.

Rotary District Governor Visits Phoenicia Club

One of the outstanding events of every Rotary Club is the official visit of its District Governor, Samuel B. Ross Jr.

At a regular meeting held at the Phoenicia Hotel last week Ross presented an informative and inspiring address to all the members and their guests. His remarks were well received.

Larry Bogert, of the Kingston Rotary Club and Governor's aide introduced the guest of honor. It is his job to guide the activities and progress of 36 Clubs in his district, with a membership of over 1800.

He made reference to Rotary as an open door which can be opened wider and wider to opportunities for worthwhile projects serving the community.

Dr. Bernard Dolin reported on the proposed installation of emergency blood plasma extenders kits that will be strategically located for use of doctors in the Shandaken area.

A get-together followed at the home of President Herbert Epstein where the chairman of the various committees met with Ross to plan the year's programs.

4 Minor Mishaps Reported in City

Four minor accidents were reported at City Police Headquarters Friday afternoon and evening.

Friday at 1:15 p. m. a car going north on East Strand and being operated by Charles Carl, 62, of 12 Wrentham Street struck a parked car owned by Fannie Munson, 87 Orchard Street, about the left rear according to reports. The mishap was investigated by Patrolman Frank Stipp.

Vehicles operated by Robert L. McDonald, 23, of 578 Broadway and Henry W. Baker, 75, of RD 3, Box 119, were in collision on Washington Avenue at the intersection with Hurley Avenue, reports say.

The McDonald vehicle was reported turning right off Orchard Avenue and onto Washington Avenue and the Baker vehicle was making a right turn onto Washington Avenue from a driveway in the rear of the Bull Market. The mishap was investigated by Patrolman Thomas Kearney.

Charles Rex Jr., 27, of Shokan told police that an unknown vehicle struck the left side of the vehicle he was operating at 7:55 p. m. Friday on Wilbur Avenue near West O'Reilly Street. He said that he was going south on Wilbur Avenue at the time his vehicle was struck.

Vehicles operated by Carl A. Smith, 53, of Route 2, Box 185 and Eleanor Rickert, 24, of 107 West Hoosac Road, Williamstown, Mass. were reported to have collided on Albany Avenue at the arterial interchange at 5:10 p. m. Friday.

Reports say that the Smith vehicle was turning left into Albany Avenue and the Rickert vehicle was going north on Route 587 at the time of the collision.

Facts on Fires

be made by making life-saving escape plans, it was stressed. Then hold family fire drills regularly, to be sure everyone, including the children, knows how to act quickly.

The following points are suggested:

Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially the bedrooms. Allow for fire blocking stairway or hall. Remember that a closed bedroom door will hold back flame and smoke, allow extra time for escape.

For upper floor escape, use any available porch or garage roofs, ladders or trees as ways down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily, and especially that they are low and large enough to get through.

Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet, and be sure everyone understands the rule "once out-stay out." Plan for fire department notification, by street box or neighbor's phone, as quickly as the house is clear of people.

Dutchess Man Hurt

A 67-year-old Dutchess County man was injured at 8:30 p. m. Friday when his 1955 car went out of control on Parsons Street, North Park Street, Rhinebeck. Trooper William Anagnos reported Joseph C. McIntyre, of 6 Knollwood Place, Rhinebeck, apparently fell asleep as he drove south on Parsons Street. The vehicle crashed into a utility pole. McIntyre was taken to the Northern Dutchess Hospital, Rhinebeck, where nine sutures were taken to close a laceration of his forehead. He was admitted for further treatment.

Sues Over Thalidomide

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A father filed a $2.5-million damage suit in U.S. District Court against two drug firms, charging that an 18-month-old son was born without arms as a result of the sedative drug thalidomide.

The child, Thomas David Diamond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon Diamond of suburban Rydel, also had other deformities at birth, the father said.

The suit, filed Thursday, contends that the William S. Merrell Co. and Richardson Merrell Inc., both with principal offices in Cincinnati, Ohio, "were careless and negligent in the manufacture, research and testing of the product known as Kevadon."

Second Driver Is Issued Summons For Bridge 'Load'

The second violator of the load limit on the temporary bridge across Esopus Creek was fined $100 or a 15-day jail sentence this morning in City Court by Judge Joseph D. Saccomano.

Harvey A. Brown of Millville, Pa., was issued a summons Friday to appear in City Court this morning by Patrolman George Deyo for driving an overloaded truck across the bridge and the Washington Avenue Viaduct.

The vehicle being operated by Brown was reported to weigh 18,500 pounds with its load. The posted weight limit of the bridge and viaduct is six tons.

Friday morning Victor A. Grogan, 29, of Schaghticoke, Dutchess County was issued a summons for operating a vehicle in excess of the load limit on the bridge which was opened to traffic Thursday afternoon.

Nixon Camp

former Romanian munitions maker and "one of the most sinister figures to have made his way through the maze of both Nazi and Communist dictatorships during the Hitler and Stalin regimes."

He said Malaxa reportedly is living in New York.

Malaxa came here in 1946 with a Romanian trade delegation and sought permanent residence in 1948, Shelley said.

In 1952, Shelley said, Nixon, then a senator, was reported to have sought legislative action permitting Malaxa to enter the country. But Shelley conceded he could find no such legislation bearing Nixon's name.

During the Korean War, Shelley said, Malaxa organized a firm known as the Western Tube Corp., which was to build a plant in Nixon's home town of Whittier, Calif., to make tubes for oil drilling.

Shelley said the company applied for admission of Malaxa on grounds he was needed to supervise affairs of the company.

Nixon "helped promote these applications," Shelley said. He said Nixon and former Sen. William Knowland, R-Calif., signed a letter to the Defense Production Administration urging approval of the firm's application for a certificate of necessity, to give its materials and personnel top priority.

"The scheme worked," said Shelley, and Malaxa was admitted to the U.S. in 1953.

Klein said Nixon and Knowland "signed a routine letter asking that the merits of the Western Tube Corp. be examined."

But, Klein added, "As Mr. Shelley knows better than anyone else, such letters are routine in Congress, particularly from a state which needs new industry."

Say East Germans Would Not OK Mercy Mission

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police said today East German guards prevented a British army ambulance from going to the aid of a man apparently wounded on the Communist side of the wall.

The West police said East guards had fired two tommygun blasts at a man who apparently emerged from a tunnel on the East Berlin side near the Heidelberg Strasse, in the southern part of the city.

A British ambulance stationed more than three miles away at Checkpoint Charlie vainly attempted to pass through the barrier guarded by the People's Police.

Indict Navy Vet For Sellout of Secrets to Reds

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted Cornelius Drummond, 33, veteran of 16 years in the Navy, on charges of a wholesale sellout of American defense secrets to Soviet Russia.

The Baltimore-born Negro has been held under $100,000 bond since his arrest Sept. 28 outside a Larchmont, N.Y., diner. He faces a possible death penalty if convicted under the indictment.

Four secretaries to the Soviet Mission to the United Nations were named co-conspirators, but not defendants, in Friday's indictment. All have left the country.

Drummond was arrested in company with two of the Russians. More than a dozen types of data were listed in the indictment. A government spokesman said they covered naval weapons, submarine maintenance information and electronics secrets.

The conspiracy was said by the government to have begun in October 1957 and continued until Drummond's arrest. U.S. Atty. Vincent L. Broderick claimed that Drummond had received as much as $6,000 in a single payoff from the Russians.

The Russians named in the indictment were Evgeni Prokhorov, Ivan V. Vyrovod, Vadim Vladimirovich Sorokin, and Mikhail Stepanovich Savolev.

Prokhorov, 31, second secretary of the Soviet U.N. Mission, left the country last week after the State Department ordered their recall. The other two Russians left earlier.

In Moscow Friday, the Soviet Union ordered Asst. U.S. Naval Attache Raymond D. Smith out of Russia, accusing him of spying for the United States. American officials said the Kremlin's action appeared to be in retaliation for the U.S. expulsion of Prokhorov and Vyrovod.

U. S. Sets Off 53rd

In Nevada Series

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission has announced detonation of another nuclear device beneath the Nevada Desert.

The underground blast at the AEC's Nevada test site Friday was the 53rd announced by the commission since the test series was begun last September and the third explosion of intermediate range. This means the force was equivalent to that of 20,000 to 1 million tons of TNT.

take it from Kathy

Don't Argue - Discuss

Dear Kathy: I have a problem, a big one. My mother won't let me get my hair cut, wear lipstick or even get my own shoes.

She is stubborn and in a way old-fashioned. I'm going into the seventh grade and it means a lot to me. She doesn't understand. I need help. I can't talk back or I'll be disobeying, from her point of view.—R. S.

Dear R. S.: Thirteen is borderline—just old enough to be supposed to act mature and would like to be an adult, but too soon to add all the grown-up fixturs.

The average girl of your age wears a little natural-looking lipstick on special occasions. Haircut? If it's shoulder length or shorter you should be able to look attractive and experiment a great deal, in spite of restrictions. If longer it would be hard to care for.

At 13 you're too young to buy major items for your wardrobe alone, especially if the budget is limited. Shopping for small accessories would give you buying experience and could be profitable. Your preferences should play a part when clothes are selected, but you and your mother should shop together and she should approve final choices.

There's a difference between talking back and discussing things. Exchanging ideas is good. Arguing is unprofitable.

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP)—Shirley E. Gornick backed out of the drive at her home onto the street. So did Charles E. Routson, who lives across the street. Although their cars were damaged, no one was injured.

Marie E. Klippel Exchanges Vows With Frank J. Izzo

Miss Marie E. Klippel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Phillips of Woodstock, wed Frank J. Izzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Izzo of Stony Hollow in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, Sept. 29 at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church. Officiating was the Rev. Harvey L. Todd of Melville Reformed Church. Mrs. Carl Harrington was the organist and Mrs. Donna Peterson, the soloist.

Beauty baskets of white gladioli and yellow daisy pompons decorated the church for the occasion. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon and yellow daisy pompons.

The bride's stepfather gave her in marriage. She wore a white satin brocade gown fashioned with circlet neckline, long tapered sleeves, fitted bodice and full hooped skirt which was chapel length. Her veil in bouffant length was gathered to a stylized pearl and cut crystal crown. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, miniature carnations and lily.

Mrs. Wayne Pleugh of Saugerties was the matron of honor. She wore a royal blue satin brocade, abbreviated sleeves, molded bodice, scooped neckline and belled skirt in ballerina length. She wore a royal blue pillbox hat with chapel veil and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow Fuji mums.

Bridesmaids were Jean Cousins of Woodstock and Carol Anne Hefty of Woodstock. Their gowns and hats were identical to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow Fuji mums with white pompons.

The bride's sister, Carol Anne Phillips, served as flower girl in a cotton blue taffeta frock with fitted bodice, floor length hooped skirt and matching crown. She carried a basket bouquet of yellow and white pompons.

William Beesmer of Stony Hollow was best man. Ushering were George W. Klippel of Woodstock and James Beesmer of Stony Hollow.

A wedding reception was given in St. Gregory's Episcopal Hall in Woodstock for more than 125 guests. Music was provided by the Nick Gentile Trio.

Mrs. Izzo was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed as a secretary-receptionist by Ulster Homes in Woodstock. Her husband is an alumnus of Oontela Central High School and is employed by the Ertel Engineering Corporation in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride wore a royal blue knitted suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Izzo will reside in West Hurley.

'Elijah' Rehearsals Begin This Sunday; Fair Street Church

There has been considerable interest and enthusiasm in the proposed Greater Kingston Massed Chorus presentation of Mendelssohn's 'Elijah', to be conducted by Percy W. Gazlay II. In conjunction with this interest, the steering committee for the production has issued the following statement to further enlighten all interested local singers:

"An oratorio, it is generally known, is a dramatic text or poem, usually on a theme from Scripture, set to music in recitative, arias, and choruses with orchestral accompaniment, but no action, scenery, or costume. The 'Elijah' was written by Mendelssohn in 1846, a year before his death, and deals with the famous Israelite prophet of the 900's B.C. It, along with the oratorio 'St. Paul', is generally considered to be among Mendelssohn's finest contributions to music. The 'Elijah' is an oratorio for a full chorus of mixed voices; there are five soprano solos, seven contralto solos, six tenor solos, sixteen bass solos, twenty-three choruses and two double choruses."

Registration will be held this Sunday in the parish room of the Fair Street Reformed Church at 2:30 and the initial rehearsal will follow from 3 to 5 p. m.

Kripplebush

KRIPPLEBUSH — There will be a baked goods sale Oct. 13 starting 10 a. m. at the Kripplebush Methodist Church lawn for the benefit of the Sunday school. Members of the Sunday school are making the arrangements.

There will be an antique show and sale at the lodge hall Friday, Oct. 19, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The Week of Prayer and Self-Denial service will be held at the Kripplebush church Oct. 24. Women of the Stone Ridge and Accord Methodist Churches may attend.

The Halloween Trick or Treat for UNICEF will start 7 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 31. Refreshments will be served in the hall.

Your Community Chest Contributions at Work

Your contributions in the one-for-many 1962 Ulster County Community Chest meant $8,305 for the Jewish Community Center of Kingston.

Here is how they are using your money to help others:

The leisure time of almost 6,000 children, and men and women of all ages was made more productive by the social and informal education and recreational programs the Jewish Community Center provided last year at its new building at 96 Maiden Lane, and at its off-premises children's summer day camp and 124-acre family recreational site.

The Center works to help individuals achieve affirmative identification with Jewish life and culture and with their responsibilities as citizens of the United States. To do this they provide a trained staff, facilities, and a full program of supervised club group activities, athletics, social activities, informal education and civic programs for age groups of both sexes—from child groups to senior citizens.

A nursery school is conducted at the center year-round. In summer, its children's day camp and the family recreation site with acres of woodland, swimming pool and athletic and rest areas offer full days of directed education and recreation.

Making cancer dressings or cooperating with local civic bodies on programs for advancing the welfare of the entire community are given equal emphasis in the Center's schedules.

Membership in the Center is open to all residents of the Ulster County Community Chest area—to whom the Jewish Community Center, and the ten other local agencies united in the Chest, make their annual appeal for community backing in the all-in-one, one-for-all 1963 Ulster County Community Chest campaign.

JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER — Community Chest Secretary Mrs. Nellie Glennon chats with Robert Kurland, Jewish Community Center director, about the Center's program and the need for Chest support. Both agree that the necessity for a successful Chest Campaign is greater than ever.

Carillon Bells Demonstration at Military Academy

On Saturday, October 13th, a professional demonstration will be given by Mr. Robert J. Carwithen, accomplished musician and carillonneur, on a set of Schulmerich "Carillon Bells" temporarily installed for the purpose in the Cadet Chapel of the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York.

Mr. Carwithen, a native of Philadelphia, was the carillonneur at the 1958 World's Fair in Brussels and presently is musical consultant and recording artist for Schulmerich Carillons, of Sellersville, Pennsylvania, manufacturers of the instrument. Consisting of miniature bronze bell units which are struck by metal hammers, the carillon produces exact true bell tones almost inaudible to the human ear. These bell vibrations are then amplified over one million times by means of specially-designed electronic equipment, producing true music with all the depth and richness of traditional cast bells of massive proportions.

October 13th marks the date of the annual Alumni Homecoming Day at the Academy. A record number of graduates with their families are expected to be present for the Brigade Review of the Corps of Cadets in the morning and for the football game with Penn State University in the afternoon. The beautiful tones of the carillons to be heard throughout the grounds of the Academy will furnish a pleasant addition to the day's activities.

Mr. Carwithen will present a highly-varied program of religious, classical, and collegiate selections at three times in the afternoon: 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m., and 4:30 p. m. The football game, and for a period following the game. During Sunday services at the Cadet Chapel, Mr. Carwithen will play appropriate selections. It is expected that similar programs will be presented by him on the following weekend.

Installation of the carillons is being considered in connection with the long-range plan for the development of the Cadet Chapel, the beautiful military-Gothic edifice situated high above the field, dominating the entire West Point landscape. While the demonstration carillon will have but 122 bells, it is hoped to install ultimately, through private funds, a 305-bell "Americana" carillon in the Chapel, at a cost of about $50,000. When installed, this carillon system would enable the music to be heard both within and outside the Chapel.

While the demonstration carillon will have but 122 bells, it is hoped to install ultimately, through private funds, a 305-bell "Americana" carillon in the Chapel, at a cost of about $50,000. When installed, this carillon system would enable the music to be heard both within and outside the Chapel.

Mr. Carwithen will present a highly-varied program of religious, classical, and collegiate selections at three times in the afternoon: 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m., and 4:30 p. m. The football game, and for a period following the game. During Sunday services at the Cadet Chapel, Mr. Carwithen will play appropriate selections. It is expected that similar programs will be presented by him on the following weekend.

Installation of the carillons is being considered in connection with the long-range plan for the development of the Cadet Chapel, the beautiful military-Gothic edifice situated high above the field, dominating the entire West Point landscape. ## Edna M. Nodine, John F. Walsh Jr. Are Married; Ceremony in Yonkers Church

MRS. JOHN F. WALSH JR. (Bisesi photo)

On Sunday, Sept. 30 at 3:30 p. m., marriage vows were exchanged at St. Peter's Church in Yonkers, N. Y., by Miss Edna M. Nodine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Nodine of Yonkers, and John F. Walsh Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Walsh Sr., also of Yonkers. Officiating was the Rev. Joseph C. Connor.

After the church ceremony, approximately 150 guests were received at a reception given in the Maple Room of the Polish Community Center, 92 Waverly Street, Yonkers.

Mr. Nodine gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a Chantilly lace gown in chapel length. Outlined with pearls and sequins. A silk illusion veil was gathered to a crown of lace and pearls and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of lily-of-the-valley with streamers.

Mrs. Richard Robinson was matron of honor. A resident of Saugerties, N. Y., Mrs. Robinson wore a turquoise blue floor length gown with matching pillbox and flirtation veil. She carried a bouquet of turquoise blue and white pompons.

John J. Walsh of Yonkers was best man. Ushers were Thomas O'Sullivan, the bridegroom's cousin, and Thomas Sampson, the bride's cousin.

The bride, a former resident of Rosendale, was graduated from Kingston High School and is now employed in the office of B. F. Mara Corporation, Yonkers. Her husband is an alumnus of the Yonkers High School of Commerce. He also attended Butler Business School and is employed by City of Yonkers in the City Clerk's office.

When Mr. and Mrs. Walsh return from their wedding trip to Nassau, they will reside in Yonkers.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent submits the following article on nutritional diseases:

Have you ever seen scurvy, rickets, pellagra? Probably not. These diseases caused by poor nutrition, are rare in this country today; when they occur it's mostly from neglect.

Here in the U. S. an entire population, one of the first in human history—is free from the risks of severe hunger and deficiency diseases.

American agriculture deserves much of the credit for the "better eating" that's a big reason for our better health. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the land-grant colleges and universities are as concerned about how food is used as about how it is grown.

Scientists in agriculture have directly—improved health and helped cure some diseases in man. Nutritional diseases—goiter, rickets, anemia, pellagra, beriberi, scurvy and night blindness—were common a few decades ago. (As recently as 1928, more than 7,000 Americans died of pellagra.) Now we know that foods with the needed iodine, iron, or vitamins can prevent these diseases.

Plants and animals are better now. This has paid off in human health.

Agricultural scientists found that similar foods may not always give the same nutrients to the people who eat them. They showed farmers that certain breeds of cattle give milk with higher protein content, that chickens fed special rations can lay eggs with more of vitamins A and D, that some strains of sweet potatoes, for instance, have more natural vitamin C than others.

Today farmers are growing "higher class" crops of plants and livestock, often bred especially so that our foods have more nutritional value. We're getting more dividends in health from the food we eat.

Back in 1900 our life expectancy was only about 47 years. Today it's around 70! But in many countries where malnutrition and disease take heavy tolls, the people even now can expect only 35 to 45 years of life.

The striking decline in infant deaths—a drop from 224 per 1,000 in 1900 to about 25 per 1,000 in 1961—is one of our greatest accomplishments. Better nutrition for mothers, plus good medical care, has played an important role.

Now, nutritionists are concentrating on the special diet problems of our "over 65" age group. These vital statistics tell a story of dramatic improvement in human health. Our nutrition is good and improving, or such spectacular gains in health and life would not have been possible.

Better diets are one big reason (along with higher incomes and better medical care) that our children are growing taller and sturdier than we or their grandparents were at the same age.

The good nutrition that brings better health also helps a child reach the full body build that his inherited genes allow him. A 9-year-old boy today averages an inch or more taller than one a generation ago.

Young men and women are now about 2 inches taller than those the same age 60 years ago. Men now average around 5 feet 10 inches, compared with 5 feet 8 inches for men at the beginning of the century. Their weight has increased, too, an average of 20 pounds.

Young adult women averaged 5 feet 4.3 inches in height in 1955, compared to 5 feet 2.4 inches in 1900. But the ladies are watching their weight. At the same ages, they weigh less for their height than their grandmothers did, by some 6 to 8 pounds.

American farmers are producing some of the best food in the world today. How we select from this abundance is up to us, but most people now know quite a bit about what they should eat and why.

As a nation, our main nutritional fault now is that we're inclined to enjoy too many calories!

82 Are Registered For P-TA School

Eighty-two have registered for the Woodstock P-TA School, which started Thursday with dance appreciation, taught at St. Gregory's Parish by Pat Harrison Muller.

Dance appreciation is open more to boys than girls. There are 19 registered.

Creative dramatics began on Thursday at 2 p. m., also at St. Gregory's Parish Hall. Mrs. Eda Toldi Crist, who has extensive experience in children's theatre, has 14 boys and 16 girls enrolled.

On Tuesday, Oct. 9, from 9 to 11 a. m., Folk Lore will be taught at St. Joan of Arc Parish Hall by the Ulster County Folk Lore Society. There are 19 girls and two boys registered to date and there are openings for more. The Folk Lore Society will contribute many of its talented members to teach various forms of Folk Lore.

Also on Tuesday, Oct. 9, from 2 to 4 p. m., Conversational French will be taught at St. Joan of Arc Parish Hall. This class is closed with seven boys and 14 girls registered and a waiting list of several more. Sonia Malkine, a native of France and a talented Folk Singer, will emphasize conversation, stories of France and unusual French songs.

The P-TA school committee is indebted to the teachers and the two Churches for their generosity and enthusiasm towards this project.

Those interested in registering in the Dance Appreciation Class or in the Folk Lore Class are asked to contact Mrs. Rita Buoymaster.

Olive Fire Department Gives Demonstration

As part of their Social Studies unit on community helpers, the coming of Fire Prevention Week was heralded at the Ashokan Annex by a visit from the Olive Fire Dept. No. 2. Chief Bob Adsit, with the aid of Anthony Macaluse and Dr. Hunt, described and demonstrated the use of various equipment and techniques used in modern fire fighting operations. The use of the Scott Air Pack, with its mask and oxygen tanks, the use of the portable generator were seen.

Chief Adsit also explained about the many fire drills and training sessions the firemen have to attend in order to become efficient in the operation of all the newer scientific equipment.

Phoenicia Library Lacks Funds, Must Cut Back Services

The Board of Trustees of the Phoenicia Library announces with regret the impending permanent withdrawal of the library's bookmobile, together with further curtailment of service to the community in the number of hours the library itself will be open.

The library's unprecedented growth has reached a point where volunteer help and contributions are no longer sufficient to support its operation. Request was made of the Town of Shandaken Board for $3500, the minimum additional funds required for maintenance during the remainder of this year, and all of next.

The Town Board was willing to delegate only $1250 toward the support of the library, and immediate reduction of service is therefore mandatory, in order to stretch available and anticipated funds through 1963.

The bookmobile will be discontinued as of October 20, and members are asked to return all books on or before that date or return them to the main library. The library in Phoenicia will

CORRIDORS IN THE CLOUDS—Under study by the Federal Aviation Agency is a system of terminal air corridors near major airports, where air traffic is heaviest. Artist's drawing gives concrete form to these invisible highways. Aircraft entering a terminal area would be segregated by their speeds and other performance capabilities and be guided down sloping "ramps" to the runways under positive control from the ground.

Home Should Be Properly Calked

By MR. FIX

Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Your house will be more water tight and air tight if it is properly calked. While calking is a necessary item in preparing your house for painting, don't do it only at such times.

Inspect your home periodically to see if it needs calking or if old seams need re-calking. As a new house ages, wood shrinks, cracks will open up around doors and windows.

Calking is a putty-like substance but differs from putty primarily in that it does not dry out and shrink. The surface of the material will acquire a skin-like surface, but underneath it remains soft and pliable and will continue to fill a opening in spite of contraction and expansion.

Can Be Painted

Calking can be painted over. But if you are calking raw wood, give the wood a coat of primer paint first. If you don't the wood will soak up the oils in the calking, leaving it dried out.

Calking keeps drafts and rain out, warm air in. If a driving rain has left wet spots inside your home it was probably due to a lack of calking.

Calk wherever horizontal and vertical surfaces meet, wherever two different materials meet and around any protrusion from the main shell of the house.

Calk around window and door frames, between dormer sides and the roof, between steps and wall, around door sills, under the window sill, between siding and roof, in all inside corners where siding comes together. Brick-work such as a chimney or a half-brick wall that comes in contact with wood siding should be calked.

Gun's Bead

Calking is generally applied with a calking gun, a device which looks like a grease gun and which forces out the calking in a narrow, continuous bead.

Calking is available in a special cartridge that slips into the gun, saving cleaning up afterward. Gun grade calking is also available in bulk. It's cheaper to handle this way but the savings for the average homeowner would not offset the work involved in filling and cleaning the more expensive gun needed nor in storing large quantities of calking.

Calking is also available in a stiffer knife grade for application with a putty knife.

Free Surfaces

Before applying calking make certain that surfaces are free of old calk and dirt and are not greasy. If the opening is very large, fill with such material as oakum before calking closer to the surface.

In addition to ordinary calking compound you will find special compounds such as black calking which is an asphalt material to use on roofs around flashing.

Two windows in our home are now boxed in by newly-built book shelves. Nice white wooden shutters would be the perfect solution, I was advised.

While debating my next move, I learned about an improved process for laminating almost any fabric of your choice to window shades. Heretofore, this has been an expensive proposition. But recent improvements in adhesives now permit the process to be done economically through virtually any department store or store selling window shades.

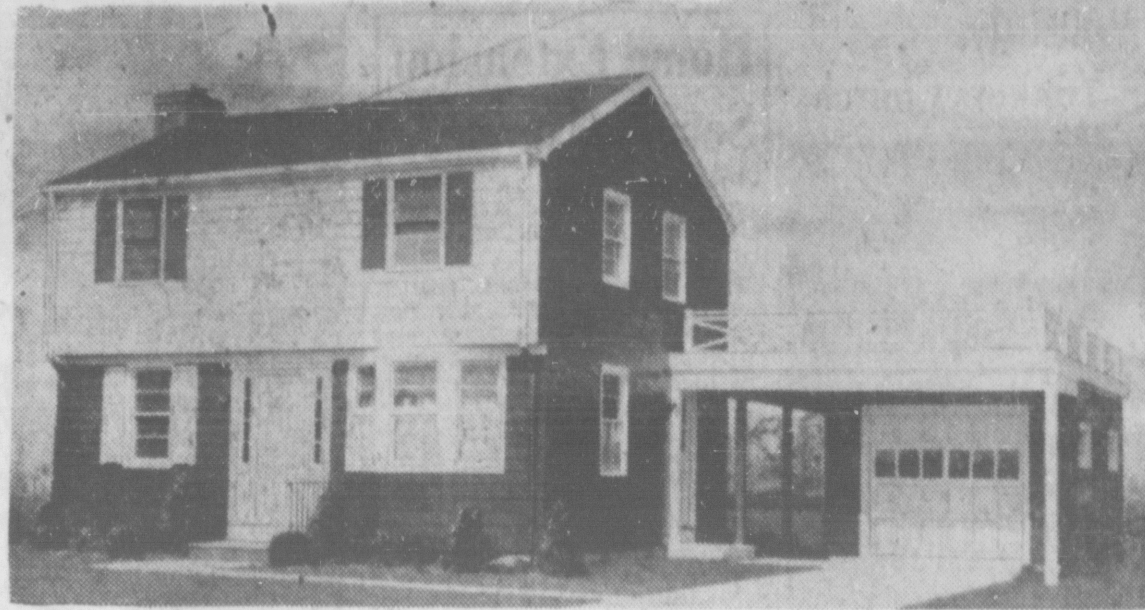

Fabric can be laminated to the translucent or the room darkening shades. I was told by a shade expert that a standard shade (36 inches by 6 feet) laminated to fabric would cost about $15 including the shade but not including the fabric.

This same expert says that, generally speaking, these fancy shades should be reverse hung (with the roller facing the window rather than the room) or that roller tops should be concealed by a valance, perhaps in matching fabric.

While the fabric-laminated shades are used with draperies, they are often used solo to make a dramatic show of a window.

Dry Surface

Be sure that the surface you are about to paint is completely dry if you are using oil or alkyd based paints. Water-thinned latex paints can be brushed or rolled on damp surfaces, however.

Split the Job

Did you know that in many localities it is possible to arrange with a painting contractor to paint all the hard-to-reach high places, while you and members of the family paint the lower, easy-to-reach sections?

Dull It

Paint under the eaves and other protected parts of the house may still be glossy when the rest of the building needs repainting. To make sure that the new paint will adhere firmly, dull the gloss with sandpaper or steel wool before applying the new coating.

Littering Is Expensive

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Cleaning up the state's littered highways costs an average of $23.29 a mile, the State Highway Commission says. Highway Department clean-up crews report finding everything from pins to trailer units, puppies, kittens. The largest volume of trash consists of beer, soda and whisky bottles.

Sun Deck

A sun deck is suggested on the roof of the garage. And, if you decide to follow this suggestion you should have a door put in the right wall of the master bedroom.

Both the heating plant and the laundry must be located in the basement of this house. The heater should be located under the living room and the laundry under the kitchen or lavatory.

Mrs. FDR Not Critical

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleanor Roosevelt, confined to a hospital for an infectious lung condition, had a recurrence of a slight temperature Friday, doctors report. They said the condition of the 77-year-old former First Lady is not critical.

The report was the first to state that the infection was in the lung area. A hospital spokesman added that she does not have cancer.

Soviets Declare U. S. Farm Tour Well Worthwhile

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Minister of Agriculture K. G. Pysin told Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman Friday that a month's tour he and four aides made of U. S. farm land had been well worthwhile.

He expressed a hope for more such visits to study American agriculture.

The tour took the group through the Midwest and West. Freeman smilingly told Pysin head had heard that the Soviet officials had been struck by the cornbelt girls. Pysin laughingly replied that attention had been paid to both the corn and the girls.

Exchanges turned, at one point, into a bit of polite needling.

Freeman told the Soviet group that Americans get their food more cheaply than any other people in the world. He said that on the average they pay less than 20 per cent of their earnings for food. He added that Americans take their food, like water and air, for granted.

"Yes," the Soviet official replied, "but it is a pity that with all this increase in their production your farmers do not get an increase in income from it."

Saugerties School Taxes Delinquent After Wednesday

Saugerties Central School District taxes may be paid at the collector's office in the Town Building Annex, Main Street, without penalty through Wednesday, Oct. 10.

After Wednesday a statutory penalty of two per cent will be charged until November 10, according to William A. Wosten-diek, receiver of taxes.

Tax bills may be paid by mail, addressed to the collector at the Town Building or in person.

Hours for collection are Monday through Friday between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. and Saturday between 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

Cross-Country Trip Tied to Farm Safety

A farm tractor and trailer, making a transcontinental crossing of the United States on a 3,500 mile trip through 18 states in an unusual test conducted by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., made a stop-over Friday at the company's Kingston agency.

The junket, with two operators alternating at the controls, began at Portland, Me., on Tuesday, Oct. 2, and is expected to arrive at San Diego, Calif., in mid-November.

The company said the 3,500 mile trip will promote improved farm safety and prove the increased road wearability of "Super-Torque" rear tractor tires. The farm equipment is being equipped with lights and warning devices as recommended by the Farm Conference, National Safety Council, for safety on the highway. The equipment also includes trailing lights, fire extinguishers, safety hitch on trailing equipment and rear view mirror.

The company notes that the cross-country drive may be the slowest since the Conestoga wagons, and the longest attempted on a farm tractor.

Glamorize Your Problem Window

By KAY SHERWOOD

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are times when none of the standard curtain styles seem right for a given window. It may be the window, its placement or size that is difficult to curtain. It is helpful at this point to remember that there is more than one way to treat an uncurtained window.

Two windows in our home are now boxed in by newly-built book shelves. Nice white wooden shutters would be the perfect solution, I was advised.

YOUNG FOLKS

Fun of All Kinds
Puzzles—Stories—
Things to Do—Pen Pals

How Are Your 'Howdy-Duties'?

How do you do at "howdy-duties?" If you want to act and feel like a smoothie it's important to be hep to this kind of good manners.

When an older person is introduced to you, smile and say politely, "How do you do," or "How do you do, Mr. Jones." If it's someone your own age say, "How do you do, Sully," or "Hello, Jim." Never say, "Pleased to meet you," or "Glad to meet you."

Young folks always stand when being introduced to an older person. A boy stands when being introduced to a girl. A girl need not rise when a boy or another girl is being introduced to her.

If you are included in a group of folks and through some oversight are not introduced to everyone present, it is quite proper for you to speak to any of the strangers and introduce yourself to them.

When out and about, don't head back and wait for friends and acquaintances to say "howdy" to you first. Be fast and friendly with your greetings. It is not considered "fresh" if you smile and say "hello" to folks you see every day even though you've never been introduced.

If you are a girl, don't expect a boy to speak first when your paths cross because, according to etiquette rules a girl is supposed to be the first to speak.

Gay "howdies" are out of place before or during a church service.

When attending a party at a friend's home it is good manners to give the mother of the house a pleasant greeting. At an outside party or dance there is usually a host and hostess committee stationed near the door and it is your "howdy-duty" to greet these folks immediately upon your arrival.

Know your "howdy-duties" and be neat to meet.

—Erma Reynolds

Anchors Aweigh for School---

Did you ever get excused from school for being seasick? Well these young people never did either, but they could. In order for them to get to school, they have to take a boat and then a bus. They live on an island near Crystal River, Fla.

Here's How to Have Fun Indoors, And It's All Done With Mirrors

On a day when you're cooped up indoors and have bad weather blues, ask your mother if you can borrow a couple of mirrors from her pocketbooks.

Have you ever tried writing your name while looking in a mirror? It's a hard trick. Place a piece of paper on the table. Hold a mirror with one hand and write your name with the other, all the while keeping your eyes fastened on the mirror.

In the mirror your name will be right side up, but when you've finished writing you'll have an upside-down signature.

Try your hand at mirror drawing. Place a piece of paper on the table. Hold a mirror in one hand, and while looking in the mirror—(never at the paper) try to draw some sort of a circle, star, square or house.

You'll find this is a difficult stunt because while looking in the mirror, your hand will not want to move to where you want it to.

Use the mirror for laughs. Select a magazine picture of a person who is looking straight forward. Place this picture flat on the table. Place one edge of a double mirror at the exact center of the person's face, from forehead to chin.

As you look in the mirror you'll see only one-half of the face reflected. Swing the mirror gradually in semi-circles, first to the left, then to the right, all the while keeping your eyes on the reflection in the mirror. The results will be very funny.

Here is a mirror stunt which needs two or more participants: Stretch as many strings as there are players side by side across the room. Each player has a mirror and stands on one of the strings at one side of the room, with his back to the goal at the opposite side of the room.

At the starting signal the players hold up their mirrors and sight the string on which they are to travel to the goal.

Every step must be on the string. This is a race to the goal and back to the starting line.

Laws of Land, Sea and Air Enforced by Kenya Police

One of the world's most versatile police forces is in Kenya. This East African nation, headquarters for the world's finest big-game hunting, boasts officers who not only are landlocked enforcers of law on the streets of large cities and tiny interior villages, but, also, has a unit which patrols by air and another which serves the coastal waters and the lakes of Kenya.

The air wing is a story in itself. It serves in patrol and rescue operations for mountain climbers scaling Mt. Kilimanjaro and Mt. Kenya. Only recently the air wing was responsible for disarming the wild Turkana tribe in Kenya's Northern Frontier Province, utilizing air-to-ground communications. Air wing pilots escorted ground troops through dense jungles and dropped them food, water and medical supplies. Several hundred tribesmen are being held for questioning over the captured 190 rifles and hundreds of rounds of ammunition.

There is also daily drama for those who patrol ports, harbors and lakes.

Daily the police boat "Makonde" patrols the harbor entrance and with its warning system calls to bathers and fishing and sailing craft of the danger of blasting operations where authorities are widening the entrance.

Specially trained crews day and night man the boat which is in constant radio contact with the shore.

The Port Police also have in their custody all property belonging to the Railways and Harbors Administration and it is their job to prevent and detect crime.

Under their care also falls the big Mombasa Railway Station.

The Port Police, functioning since 1924, is a specialized unit of the Kenya Police Force. It works closely with the harbor authorities in the search of persons, vehicles and equipment and provides escorts for ammunition, currency and valuable cargoes.

All port entrances are guarded day and night as 10,000 people enter and leave the port area daily.

An important part of this branch of the police is the assistance given to Customs and Immigration Departments and to shipping companies during embarkation and disembarkation of passengers.

One of the first to encounter travelers at the ship's gangplank is the smart white uniformed officer of the Port Police. He is always on duty when ships call and deals with a host of grievances, some of which are genuine, others fancied. No one is allowed aboard a ship unless there is legitimate reason and unless the police are thoroughly satisfied.

In 1959 a unit was established for Nyanza Province when a specially-fitted boat for water patrols on Lake Victoria was commissioned. The boat was named "Elizabeth" in commemoration of the visit early that year by the Queen Mother to Kisumu.

Apart from providing normal police service on the lake, coverage is provided for the large number of islands in the lake.

Air-sea rescue in conjunction with the air wing can be undertaken.

The "Elizabeth" is powered by a six cylinder diesel engine. She can patrol the Kavirobo Gulf area and the lake for a period of 10 to 12 days at a time.

The boat, like the "Makonde," is fitted with all the equipment necessary for her role with modern VHF communication in speech and Morse contact with headquarters and other police bases around the Lake.

ZOO'S WHO

by GEORGE SCARBO

GREAT FALSE VAMPIRE BATS FOUND IN THE NORTHERN PARTS OF SOUTH AMERICA ARE THE LARGEST AMERICAN BATS. THEY ARE 6 INCHES LONG AND HAVE WINGSPREADS OF 30 INCHES.

THEY ARE KNOWN AS "LEAF-NOSED BATS" BECAUSE OF THE FLAPS OF SKIN WHICH STICK UP FROM THEIR MUZZLES.

THEIR EARS ARE HUGE. THEY ARE TAILLESS. THEIR HAIR IS DARK.

GREAT FALSE VAMPIRE BATS WILL ATTACK SMALL ANIMALS AND BIRDS, BUT THEY LIVE ON INSECTS AND FRUITS. DURING THE DAY THEY SLEEP IN TREE TOPS, CLINGING TO BRANCHES WITH THEIR LONG CLAWS, THEIR HEADS HANGING DOWN.

Knowledge From Nature---

Frog's Mom Is Really His Dad

Among animals, the fathers are not likely to take care of the babies. However, among the frogs, there is a group called the Male Nurse Frogs. In this group, the male frog takes care of the eggs.

The female frog lays 60 eggs at a time. Each egg is covered with a tough thick covering. Then the male frog fixes each egg to his strong back legs with a sort of glue. As he swims about, the eggs, of course, go with him. They grow larger and larger. At last the eyes of the young frogs can be seen.

Now the young frogs are nearly ready to burst from the eggs. The male frog must find a pool of still water. When he finds the pool, he frees the eggs from his legs. As soon as the eggs fall into the water, they begin to burst out of the shells. Then the little frogs go swimming about. They are able to take care of themselves without help.

The male frogs of this group like to live on the wet bank of a stream. They are glad to leave the water. They will not return to it again until a new batch of eggs must be cared for.

Make an Initial Necklace

Here's a recipe for just-as-bright-style pure wax jewelry: Take a colored tallow candle and

- 1—Immerse it in hot water until it is easy to mold.
- 2—Pull out the wick.
- 3—Divide the length of wax into cubes of equal size.
- 4—Mold each cube into a different letter of your first name.
- 5—Drop all the letters into a cold bath to harden the wax.

All that's left to do now is to pierce a hole in each letter with a hot needle which is threaded with the original wick. Then tie the necklace neatly around your neck with a bow. For a variation of this necklace, try a differently colored piece of wax for each letter. Thread the beads with colored string.

Miami '11' Wins, 7-6

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A cautious University of Miami football team, ranked ninth in the nation, battled to a 7-6 squeaker over the hustling Florida State University Seminoles Friday night to remain unbeaten in three games.

George Mira, Miami's outstanding quarterback, completed successive passes of 32 and 39 yards to Nick Spinelli for the only touchdown of the night.

Eleven fumbles marred the struggle and twice Florida State lost the ball inside the Miami 20-yard line. With less than a minute left in the game, Gene Roberts fumbled on the Miami 12 and Jim O'Mahoney pounced on the ball to stifle Seminole hopes for an upset.

Earlier in the same quarter, Phil Spooner dropped the ball and O'Mahoney claimed it at the Miami 15.

Florida State lost six of seven fumbles and Miami lost two of four as the Orange Bowl crowd of 43,962 shrieked with glee or groaned in despair.

It was Miami's second straight one-point decision. They trimmed Texas Christian 21-20 last Saturday after opening with a 23-14 victory over Pittsburgh.

In other major games Friday night, George Washington defeated Furman 14-7 in a Southern Conference game with Dick Drummond setting up the winning touchdown with an 85-yard punt runback and New Mexico State downed the University of Detroit 21-14, scoring all its points in the final quarter.

Ohio State, the No. 1 team in the nation, takes on UCLA in one of today's features. This is the opener for the Uclans and they will find out in a hurry just what kind of a chance they have of going all the way on the Pacific Coast.

Second-ranked Alabama has an easy assignment against scores Vanderbilt at Birmingham, while Texas, No. 3, entertains winless Tulane.

Penn State and Georgia Tech, No. 4 and No. 5, respectively, could run into trouble. The Nittany Lions, headed for the Eastern championship as at Rice, while Georgia Tech tackles Louisiana State in the television game of the week.

Southern California, No. 6, is at Iowa, and Mississippi, No. 7, plays Houston at Jackson, Miss. Ole Miss also could be in for a hard time against Houston, which is itching for a national ranking.

Washington No. 8 is host to Kansas State and Army, No. 10, is at Michigan State.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Village Activities

HIGHLAND—Meeting at the Oddo House Monday night the Lions Club heard a report from Frank Canora on street lighting. The president, Joseph Frust, appointed John Taranta and Vincent Jesonek the committee on the sale of fruit cakes, and Daniel Carora as receiver of discarded eyeglasses. Evis Verstock, a representative of the Travelers Insurance Co., was a guest of Mr. Taranta. The film, Our Obligation, was shown. This dealt with fire prevention in schools. The next meeting Oct. 14 will also be at the Oddo House.

The Town of Lloyd Democratic Club will hold a barbecue at 2 p. m., Oct. 10, at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse. Nat Gadaleto will be in charge.

The UD Society plans to hold a plant exchange at their next meeting and the following one to feature Halloween. Including the hostess, Mrs. Harry Thompson, there were attending the president, Mrs. J. H. Alexander, the Mmes. Charles Champlin, Fred Boyce, George DuBois, Herbert Eiting, Allan Hashbrouck, Alfred Lane, Doris MacGrath, C. I. Richards, Rose Seaman, Ruth Smalley, Louis A. Smith, Franklin Welker, Philip Wilklow, John F. Wadlin, N. D. Williams, the Misses Dorothy Churchill, Lillian Johnston, Eliza Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zehnacker were in New York Monday afternoon to see the latter's cousin off for Europe.

Mrs. Harry Cotant Jr. will be hostess to the meeting of the WSCS of the Methodist Church Wednesday 8 p. m. at her home on Maple Avenue. Mrs. W. H. Maynard and Mrs. Glen Davis will arrange the program on United Nations Family. Those attending will bring the sewing materials for the World Community Day kit for sending overseas. Assisting Mrs. Cotant will be Mrs. John Castellano, Mrs. Russell Rose and Mrs. Cotant Sr.

World Wide Communion will be observed in the local churches at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Area Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Ferguson left Thursday for their home in Manitowish, Wis., after visiting their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Ferguson, Vineyard Avenue.

The class was attended by 31 boys, ages of 1 and 15 years, who wanted to apply for their first hunting licenses. Three years ago there were 54 young men in the class.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Lenney spent Saturday with the latter's sister in Saybrook, Conn. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Smith Monday at Vassar Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have two sons and a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Miller, formerly residents, announce the birth of a daughter at their home in Richmond, Va.

Safe Mission Wins Futurity

By BOB COOPER

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It's nice to be able to defend your father's record and Safe Mission didn't waste his chance in the Kentucky Futurity.

Scott Frost, sire of Safe Mission, is the only trotter ever to win the triple crown—the Yonkers Futurity, the Hambletonian and the Kentucky Futurity.

The record was under assault here by A.C.'s Viking, winner of the first two legs of the crown, but Safe Mission put a quick end to the threat Friday with a Futurity victory in straight heats.

A.C.'s Viking, his favorite in both heats, finished fourth and third, out of contention both times.

Impish, last year's 2-year-old hotshot, took second with finishes of third and second. Lord Gordon was third with second and fifth place finishes.

Not since Scott Frost won the inaugural triple crown in 1935 has any sophomore trotter won even the first two jewels. But A.C.'s Viking took the Yonkers and Hambletonian and came here bent on acquiring the crown.

He didn't come close. A contender early in the two heats, he wasn't even a threat at the finish. Driver Joe O'Brien held S.A. Camp's Safe Mission just off the pace in each heat and both times made his rush after the turn for home was behind him.

Safe Mission, winner by a neck in the first heat and 1½ lengths in the second, earned $30,375 to push his bankroll to $167,784.

Griffith Favored Over Don Fullmer

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith, who almost quit the ring following the death of Benny (Kid) Paret, returns to the scene of that tragedy in a fighting role for the first time tonight.

The 24-year-old New Yorker will take on young Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in a 10-round television (ABC-TV, 9 p. m., EST) at Madison Square Garden. Griffith, winner of six straight, is a 5-1 favorite.

It was on March 24 in the Garden that Griffith knocked Paret senseless in wrestling the welterweight crown from the ill-fated Cuban. Paret never regained consciousness and died 10 days later.

Since the Paret affair, the hard-hitting Griffith has beaten Ralph Dupas in a title fight and outpointed middleweight contender Denny Moyer in a non-title bout. His record is 31-3, including 11 knockouts.

Fullmer, 23, is the younger brother of NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer. Winner of two out of three fights this year, he has a 27-6 record, including nine knockouts.

Ratings High for Steve Allen Show. He Thinks It Funniest

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This is the season of the television returns, with such greats as Lucille Ball, Jackie Gleason, Loretta Young, Jack Webb and Sid Caesar going once-around-again on the networks.

They should hope to do as well as Steve Allen.

The egg-head funnyman can be racked up as a hit with his late-night 90-minute nightly outing, now in its fourth month. Ratings are high, sponsors are clamorous, critics are approving and fans are bordering on the fanatic.

Even Allen is happy, and he is not an easy man to please.

Early last summer the veteran of the television wars went back to his old stand. He had pioneered the "Tonight" show, perfecting the late-night formula before Jack Paar had ever learned to cry.

He went on to weekly shows, experiencing highs and lows of fortune until his ABC outing bombed last season. After due consideration, he accepted Westinghouse's offer to battle for the insomnia market. He is now in 25 cities. More are being added.

What he offers is a combination of music and nonsense, punctuated with his own rare ad lib wit. Amid television's over-rehearsed and bloodless entertainments, his show shines with brightness and occasional brilliance.

"I think it's the funniest show on the air today," he said casually as he lounged beside his pool on his day off. "Of course, that isn't saying much, because there isn't anything very funny on television nowadays."

"I've been very happy with the way the show has gone. I'm doing exactly what I want to do and having fun doing it. When I started out, the Westinghouse people asked if I would mind doing an occasional serious bit of business now and then. This, of course, was right up my alley."

The five-a-week operation is the work of about 60 people, "like all one-man shows," and is not as strenuous as it seems. He tapes two shows on one night and soon will be doubling up more so that he'll have a three-day work week. That will leave him free for the many other interests of his life.

3 Are Uninjured In Area Mishaps, 1 Motorist Cited

Occupants of three vehicles escaped injury and one motorist was charged with driving to the left of a double white line, as the result of highway mishaps investigated Friday by Highland state police.

Troopers said Adam Thompson, 50, Clermont Avenue, Jersey City, N. J., escaped injury at 9:05 p. m. Friday when his tractor-trailer skidded on wet pavement on Route 9W at the intersection of Chapel Hill Road, Highland. The vehicle jackknifed and the cab of the tractor was damaged.

At 5:10 p. m. Friday cars owned and operated by Doris Radcliffe, 37, of North Road, Highland, and Ludwig Koltmann, 42, of Port Ewen, collided on Route 9W, Town of Esopus.

Highland troopers reported the woman was driving south on Route 9W and Koltmann was traveling north when his car crossed the double white line. Both drivers swerved to the right but were unable to avoid the collision.

Trooper J. F. Czaplinski summoned Koltmann to appear before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver, Town of Esopus, on a charge of driving to the left of the double white line.

Rain Key Word For Weather in Most U.S. Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation was wet today and even a few snowflakes made a premature appearance in the West.

Overcast skies and varying amounts of rainfall plagued almost every nook and cranny of the country. The East was the hardest hit with more than 2 1/2 inches reported in Providence, R.I., 2 inches in Bedford, Mass., and 1 1/2 inches in Boston.

Rain fell over the northern and central Midwest, the Ohio Valley, the West, Northern Plains, the northern area of the West Coast and in the northern and central Rockies.

Snow flurries also crept into the northern and central Rockies and snow mixed with rain fell on Laramie, Wyo.

Temperatures in the 50s and 60s were prevalent over most of the nation, but some isolated areas were warmer. Most of Florida, the immediate Gulf Coast, Texas and southwestern Oklahoma reported 80 degree weather.

Lift Iron Curtain To Permit Entry At Vatican Parley

By BENNETT M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Iron Curtain was lifting today to permit delegates from at least three Soviet bloc countries to attend the Second Vatican Council of the Roman Catholic Church.

Vatican officials welcomed the chance at personal contact with prelates from Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia. Only Poland had been expected. But officials were reported uneasy over the probability that some members of the Czechoslovakian delegation were coming to watch the others. The Polish delegation was cut sharply by Communist authorities.

First arrivals among Protestant observers to the council expressed confidence the worldwide meeting opening Thursday would bring greater cooperation among all Christians.

One observer, the Rev. Dr. George Lindbeck, a Lutheran theologian of Yale University Divinity School, said it may open up "the possibility of truly great changes" in interchurch relations.

A Vatican source reported that a Czechoslovak delegation was heading for Rome. There has been no contact between the Vatican and loyal Roman Catholic churchmen in Czechoslovakia for more than a dozen years.

The Vatican is anxious to have some word of Archbishop Josef Beran of Prague, who was jailed in 1951. It is not known here whether he is alive.

In a Prague dispatch, the Italian News Agency, ANSA, said Czechoslovak authorities had agreed to give passports to a 13-member delegation. Three bishops were listed in the dispatch.

Vatican sources said there was no doubt about the loyalty of the bishops, but authorities were reported wondering about those who are accompanying the prelates. An informant said it was assumed at least some of the group were coming to shadow the others.

The primate of Poland, Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński, left Warsaw for Rome by train Friday night. A crowd of more than 2,000 hymn-singing Polish Catholics saw him off at the station.

Linked to Army Theft

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Cases of weapons offered for sale on the Hamburg black market have been linked to a theft of arms from the U.S. Army in the Munich area, police sources said today.

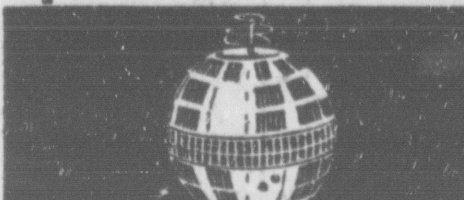

U.S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg confirmed that four soldiers are being held for investigation in connection with the theft. German police are holding three Greek citizens in connection with the same case.

No names were released pending completion of the investigation.

Sputnik Plus Five

Satellites will one day unite the world with invisible electronic waves. Forerunner of such a communications system was the Telstar, orbited July 10, 1962. Television pictures relayed by Telstar were seen by millions on both sides of the Atlantic in their own homes.

(12) The Years Ahead

As a first step toward the distant planets, Mariner II promises to be the most significant U.S. space feat. By mid-December, it will have traveled 180 million miles to pass within 9,000 miles of mysterious Venus.

OTHER U.S. ACCOMPLISHMENTS SINCE SPUTNIK I

Successful orbiting of nearly 100 satellites • Discovery of Van Allen radiation belts • Discovery of earth's pear shape • First recovery of a satellite from orbit • First and only weather satellites • First and only navigation satellites • First and only communications satellites • First international satellites • First privately built satellite • Records for radio transmission distance and time • Miniaturization of instruments.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

The years ahead will see many daring exploits—landings on the moon, Venus and Mars—and many strange vehicles in space, using new methods of propulsion. Sputnik I changed history, and generations yet unborn will remember these first faltering steps into space as among the most exciting events in the story of man and his attempts to conquer the universe.

Experts Say:

Unchecked Steam Pressure Caused Phone Explosion

NEW YORK (AP)—Unchecked steam pressure caused a boiler to explode in an uptown telephone accounting building Wednesday, killing 21 persons and injuring 95, in the opinion of engineering experts.

In testimony taken Friday by state and city investigators, the experts agreed that "tremendous steam pressure" had built up in the boiler in the 37-minute period from the time it was put into operation until it ripped through a basement lunchroom in the New York Telephone Co. structure.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman said witnesses agreed that, if normal safety devices had worked, the pressure would have been checked before it could reach dangerous proportions. The boiler had been put back into operation after having been idle during the summer. The telephone company said the boiler had been inspected and approved last June by an insurance firm.

Hunters Training Date Changed for Saugerties Area

A firearms training course for hunters licenses has been changed to Wednesday, Oct. 10 and Saturday, Oct. 13 at Saugerties High School.

To be eligible for a first hunting license, applicants must attend both sessions.

The Wednesday session will be in Room 209 from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. The Saturday session will be from 8 to 10:30 a. m. in the field to practice shooting and the proper handling of weapons when climbing fences. Those attending the Saturday session will meet at the high school and proceed to the field in a group. Applicants are requested to bring firearms.

$250,000 Fire

Jamestown Area Machinery Firm Lost in Blaze

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A two-story building that housed a sawmill and lumber - processing machinery of Green Brothers Lumber Co. at Blockville, five miles west of here, was destroyed by fire early today.

Errol Green, one of the owners, estimated the loss at $250,000. No injuries were reported. Raymond Hughes, Chautauqua County fire coordinator said 11 pieces of fire-fighting equipment from four departments and 150 men fought the flames.

Officials said the fire apparently resulted from an electrical failure.

Besides the building, which measured 80 by 250 feet, the fire destroyed three lift trucks and a lumber truck. Six large warehouses and an office building were saved.

Hercules Firm Given Citation For Management

Hercules Powder Company of Wilmington, Del., is the 1962 winner of the Kirkpatrick Award for management achievement, sponsored by Chemical Week, McGraw-Hill publication.

The award recognizes the fact that despite the vital contributions of the technologists, it is management that translates technical knowledge into products, plants and profits.

Presentation of the award will be made at a dinner in the Savoy Hilton Hotel on Oct. 24. A. E. Forster, president of Hercules, will accept the award.

Profit Sheet Cited

In honoring Hercules, which this year celebrates its 50th anniversary, Chemical Week cited its profit sheet, diversity of products and prospects for the future.

The ultimate measure of any management structure, noted the publication, is its growth performance and profit pattern. Hercules has had an enviable record on both counts.

From the early 1930s through the mid-50s, while the chemical industry was experiencing spectacular growth, Hercules' sales and profits increased at a rate slightly better than that of the industry as a whole. Its edge in profits was greater than its superiority in sales growth.

Profit-Squeeze Met

The firm has met the profit-squeeze challenge of the past decade. Total profits for the chemical industry as a whole increased about 50 per cent between 1952 and 1961. Hercules' profits increased 150 per cent.

In 1951, Hercules' earnings were $1.65 a share of common stock. In 1961, they were $3.05, an 89 per cent increase. The average growth for the same period for seven other industry leaders was 35 per cent.

Its profit performance the past five years—the period considered by the judges—shows up even better. Earnings per share in 1961 were 43 per cent higher than in 1956. This surpassed the performance of any of the seven, whose average increase was four per cent.

Tillson Driver Charged

A 19-year-old Tillson youth was charged with operating a motor vehicle with unsafe tires Friday, after his car went out of control on the State Thruway and hit a bridge abutment. Thruway troopers reported Howard Mansfield, of Tillson, was entering the Thruway at Kingston driving a 1956 sedan when the vehicle skidded into the passing lane and struck the bridge abutment. Mansfield was summoned to appear before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly, Town of Esopus, on the violation.

The longest application ever filed at the U. S. Patent office had 266 pages of text and 354 drawings.

National Defense Education Act Is Extended to 1964

The National Defense Education Act of 1958 has been extended until at least June 30, 1964, according to a report to the Kingston Board of Education, which noted that full use of the grants provided by the NDEA should involve the city schools directly, in terms of cash reimbursements, through the use of provisions of the act.

For the years 1958-62, the city schools received a total of $68,262.58.

Provided Funds

The report pointed out that members of the city school faculty are provided benefits through the provisions in Title V-B, which provides funds for counseling and guidance training institutes, and Title VI, which concerns the administration of moneys of the Act by the federal government. A number of staff members have attended college classes in mathematics, science, language and guidance under provisions of the NDEA regulations.

These courses are tuition free. In addition teachers receive stipends at the rate of $75 a week for themselves and $15 a week for each dependent while they are in attendance at an institute.

Plans for the NDEA are formulated by the state and implemented by officials of the State Education Department. It is to be noted that there has, to date, been considerable variation in the amount of approved allocations. This depends entirely on the amount of money available to each state. If one state fails to match available federal funds, that money becomes available to other states.

Kingston has consequently benefited from extensions of early estimates in the past year.

The following table reviews reimbursements to the Kingston City Schools under the NDEA:

List Claims, Receipts

Years 1958-61 (the first figure is the amount of claims, the second, receipts)—$88,546.58, $42,469.08; 1961-62—$30,421.37, $15,140.68. Total claims $118,967.95, total receipts for the city schools—$57,609.76.

Those amounts were received under Title III, which provides financial assistance to the public schools for the purchase of equipment and/or materials for strengthening instruction in science, mathematics and modern foreign languages.

An additional $10,652.82 was received by the city schools under Title V-A, which provides funds for the establishment, maintenance or extension of guidance, counseling, and testing in public secondary schools, grades 7-12.

More Missile Trouble

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The advanced A3 model of the Polaris submarine missile suffered second-stage trouble for the third time in as many launches Friday and was destroyed by the range safety officer.

Pieces of the rocket fell harmlessly into the Atlantic. Cause of the trouble was not immediately known.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Congress gave businessmen a tax incentive to enlarge and modernize their plants during the week, and a business leader and two economists called for tax cuts to stimulate the economy.

As a result, taxes—always a sure-fire subject—dominated the business news.

Price Out, Dock Strike

And it was a week in which a big West Coast steel producer cut prices, and a longshoremen's strike paralyzed ports from Maine to the Gulf of Mexico before being halted by a restraining order.

Final congressional action sent President Kennedy's drastically revised tax bill to the White House for signature.

The legislation's main provision allows a seven per cent income tax credit on money spent for plant and equipment. It was estimated this would mean a $1.3 billion jog for the economy.

However, Congress withdrew one of Kennedy's key requests, a withholding tax on interest and dividends.

To defray some of the loss of revenue because of the tax incentive, Congress tightened rules on business entertainment and travel deductions; increased taxes on mutual savings banks, savings and loan associations, mutual fire and casualty companies, and cooperatives.

Chairman Roger M. Blough of U.S. Steel Corp., speaking to the New York State Chamber of Commerce, urged an overhaul of the tax system. He said the present personal income and corporate tax structure has seriously limited the future growth potential of the U.S. economy.

Says Out Needed

Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, also said a reduction of personal and corporate income is needed to keep the economy advancing.

He told the Mortgage Bankers Association of America in Chicago that the administration's tax program—to be submitted to Congress at its next session—will be aimed at increasing consumers' spending money, stimulating investment in inventories, plants and equipment, and increasing profit margins.

Heller's predecessor in the Eisenhower administration, Raymond J. Saulnier, joined in the call for a tax cut in a speech to the Savings Bank Association of New York.

As for the state of the economy, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York said it seems to be marking time, and the First National City Bank of New York said activity apparently has leveled off on a high plateau.

Kaiser Steel Co. of Oakland, Calif., the country's ninth-ranking producer, reduced prices an average of $12 a ton as a means of meeting domestic and Japanese competition. Steel traditionally has brought a higher price in the West than in the East.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin and National said they would adjust their prices to remain competitive but they face high freight costs to reach the Western market.

420,000 Fewer Jobs

The nation's unemployment total fell by 420,000 in September to 3,512,000, but the idle rate remained at 5.8 per cent of the labor force.

An increase among job-seeking women and a rise in the number of unemployed teen-agers held the rate at the high level of August, the Labor Department said. Total employment dropped by 1.1 million to 68,668,000 but the decline from August was greater than expected.

The Commerce Department estimated new construction in September at $5.9 billion, up seven per cent from a year earlier.

Business inventories declined by $260 million in August to $96.9 billion in the first drop since the recession period of 1960-61.

Department store sales last week posted a 3 per cent gain over the like week of 1961, and September sales were six per cent higher than a year earlier, the federal reserve board reported.

Auto Output Up

Stock sales during the week totaled 13,566,680 shares, compared with 18,564,370 the previous week and 16,240,792 the comparable week of last year. Bond sales amounted to $18,796,000, below the $27,415,000 of the previous week and the $27,415,000 of the comparable 1961 week.

Automakers boosted their production to an estimated 153,000 passenger cars during the week from 147,254 the preceding week. With early sales of 1963 models reported good, they scheduled output of 700,000 cars this month, which would be a record for October.

Steel production during the week climbed for the third straight week to 1,766,000 tons, up three per cent from the previous week. Even so, mills still were operating at less than 60 per cent of capacity.

Auto Show Has Four State Bids

Entries have been received from four states for the 5th annual Westchester Auto Spectacular, slated for the County Center in White Plains October 26-27-28, it was announced today by show producer Edward Ceccolini of Ossining.

The annual exhaust fume extravaganza last year drew some 10,000 spectators to the three-day show, which features exhibitor competition in six classes, as well as exhibition booths, displays and related specialties from the automotive world.

Application blanks are available through the County Center, and must be returned no later than Thursday, October 18. All judging is conducted by the NHRA in the custom and hot rod division, and by qualified automotive experts in the other division. Multiple trophy awards will be made in all classes, with contemporary original trophies being offered.

Types of cars which have been exhibited in the past include such as antique pre-World War I, domestic and foreign sports cars, street coupes, competition roadsters and dragsters and pick-up makes of 1940 and earlier vintage.

The diabetes death rate has varied but little in the past few years, fluctuating about the level of 15 per 100,000.

Dairy Surplus Haunts Kennedy, Dictates Change

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The dairy surplus is bobbing up again to put new pressure on the Kennedy Administration for a change in federal programs for milk.

The administration had appealed to Congress for legislation authorizing milk production controls, but was turned down.

Late summer and fall improvement of pastures in many areas is expected to increase milk production above levels anticipated when August dry weather caused many pastures to wither.

The Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service now says that milk production in the September-December period may well exceed the 38.3 billion pounds produced in the corresponding period last year. It also says this increase may help raise government purchases of surplus dairy products under price supports to the equivalent of 11 billion pounds for the year—nearly 9 per cent of production.

Purchases at this level would just about match last year's purchases and come close to the record 11.4 billion pounds in 1953.

The dairy situation may bring soon a call by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman for the first meeting of the department's National Dairy Advisory Committee since early this year. The National Agricultural Advisory Commission, which concluded its quarterly closed meeting here Thursday, suggested a meeting of the dairy committee.

Also, Herschel D. Newsom, master of the National Grange, has issued a statement saying a "sensible" dairy program should receive priority consideration when the new Congress assembles in January. He expressed disappointment the present Congress did not act.
